

AHS Library

2017-18 Programming Guide

Teen Read Week

October 8-14

Jump start the year with a variety of challenges and treats around books and reading to celebrate this national event.

Library Lock-In

November 17

Stay in the Pine Hills library past closing to enjoy activities, games, trivia, and food.

In partnership with Albany Public Library with support from Albany Fund for Education

Dear Martin

December 7

Author Nic Stone will be here to talk about her new book, Dear Martin.

In partnership with the New York

Blind Date w/ a Book

February 5-16

February is so full of love so we're going to share the love with blind dates with books before February break.

Skype an Author

March 15

G. Neri, author of Yummy and other books is Skyping with us in the library.

Follow Us

Albany High School
Book Lovers Club

@AlbHSLibrary

Albany High Library

Albany High School
Library

Semi Formal

March 23

Let's start a new tradition and dress up for a good excuse, the library!

The Serpent King & Goodbye Days

April 19

Author Jeff Zentner will share about his books, his life as a lawyer and musician, and writing creatively.

Free Comic Book Day

Monday, May 7

Let's go retro and play board games, talk superheroes, and welcome illustrator Ira Marcks for our day-long events.

In collaboration with Earthworld

Library Luau

May 22 / After School

Join us for the annual book party hosted by the Book Lover's Club that includes activities as we close out the year.

Adulting 101

June during lunches

Simple hacks to set you up for success.

READ Days

On selected days, spend time in the library reading while enjoying a snack without technology.

Bibliotherapy

Join the librarians as they share new, popular, or must-read titles.

TED Talks

Once a month, sit in on a selected TED talk to feed your mind during your lunch.

Rochester Teen Book Festival

Sat. 5/19

Our annual trek to Rochester is planned for their nationally recognized contingent of popular young adult authors.